The NATO to Spigot clamp can serve a range of functions on set. With the thousands of NATO-compatible products on the market, there is no limit to the creative ways this product can be put to use. Need a fast way to attach a director's monitor? Mount the NATO to Spigot to the top of a C-Stand and attach the monitor via the NATO clamp. Need an overhead setup but have to keep everything light? Use the NATO to Spigot at the end of a C-Stand Grip arm and use the NATO clamp on your camera cage (of course, don't forget to properly counterbalance and secure your setups). From monitors to cameras to lights and much more, this compact clamp will come in clutch for those challenging setups you run into on set.
