USB-C PD is quickly becoming the standard to power consumer and professional devices and KONDOR BLUE's D-Tap to 65W USB-C PD cables are the best option to power your cameras and filmmaking accessories. These cables are perfect for all your latest tech gadgets from mobile phones to computers, cameras, and beyond.

Since KONDOR BLUE's D-Tap to 65W USB-C PD are 2-way cables, you can also charge your V-Mount and Gold Mount Batteries via a USB-C PD wall plug! (AC PD wall plug not included)

This cable can output a max of 65W and with smart Power Delivery protocols can deliver the appropriate voltage to each USB-C PD device it is plugged into. It is available in a 6" length and features reinforced connectors and nylon braiding.

* The KONDOR BLUE D-Tap to 65W USB-C PD also features our new Smart D-Tap technology. If everything is plugged in and functioning properly the built-in indicator light will be blue or green. If it isn't, and something is wrong, the light will turn red, indicating an issue. When this happens, power is cut off immediately preventing any damage from occurring to sensitive electronics.
