The OneGo Pocket Sling Bag is a daily commuter shoulder bag designed for carrying Pocket cameras, action cameras, smartphones, and other essentials. It features a three-layer sandwich-structured design. The front compartment is equipped with a magnetic quick-access system for instant retrieval of your Pocket or other small items. The center compartment can store water bottles, selfie sticks, and more. The rear compartment includes a foldable divider, allowing flexible organization of Pocket camera accessories, smartphones, action cameras, and personal belongings. Made from lightweight materials, it offers comfort and portability. It includes a TagPort Interface for PGYTECH modular badges and is compatible with Crocs Jibbitz-style charms for mix and match creative customization. The detachable and interchangeable shoulder strap allows for versatile carrying styles, while YKK water-repellent zippers provide daily protection and a smooth user experience.
